Friday - 7 July 1961

25X1

1. [redacted] At his request, I met with James Kendall, Chief Counsel of the Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee. Kendall indicated that the Subcommittee would be holding hearings on U. S. missile programs beginning 19 July and that the Chairman (Senator John Stennis) would like the Agency to brief the Subcommittee on the status of the Soviet programs. (See Memo for the Director, this date.) I advised Kendall that I would take this up with our people and be in touch with him early next week.

2. (Internal Use Only - GLC) [redacted]

[redacted] called to discuss generally the referral of special interest cases which come to the Department's attention and in which Agency interest develops. These cases usually involve White House interest and occasionally interest from the Hill. Arrangements have been made for [redacted] to contact [redacted] Personnel, on these matters. [redacted] will keep us informed of any cases involving congressional interest.
